Defend Earth from Ultra Beasts

They're here. There's no denying it. But why? We discuss.

Are they lost? Are they dangerous? These are both valid questions, yet nobody seems to know. We reached out to a self-proclaimed Ultra Beast expert, Dr. Jeffers, for an in-depth analysis of what the Ultra Beasts are and where they could be coming from. May this prepare us for what's to come—whatever that may be...

Dr. Jeffers, Ultra Beast Expert

Breaking Down The Ultra Beasts

Nihilego UB-01 Symbiont

This semi-translucent life-form's gelatinous, seemingly fragile facade belies its parasitic nature. It can latch on to a host and alter their thoughts and actions. If sighted, immediately leave the area.

Buzzwole UB-02 Absorption

We're further investigating sightings of this mysterious life-form that stands over 2 meters tall. Seek cover when it starts to show off its abnormally swollen muscles, as witnesses claim to have seen it pulverize a dump truck with a single punch.

Pheromosa UB-02 Beauty

Catching a glimpse of this Ultra Beast has been a near-impossible feat because of its extreme speed. Its lithe, elegant form is predominantly white with gold accents.

Xurkitree UB-03 Lighting

You'll know when this life-form is close by when you hear a telltale crackling sound. Standing nearly 4 meters tall, with a body that emanates electricity, Xurkitree possesses lengthy arms and legs that can be used to scale buildings.

Celesteela UB-04 Blaster

The largest Ultra Beast we've encountered yet was spotted in Sydney, Australia several weeks ago. Celesteela appears to propel its bulky frame through the air at high speeds using flammable gas.

Kartana UB-04 Blade

Though its body may resemble intricately folded paper, Kartana is sharper than a sword's edge. We've received reports of it cutting down a steel tower with one stroke of its blade.

Guzzlord UB-05 Glutton

This massive life-form has an unquenchable appetite. Reports say it devours anything that stands in its way, from buildings to mountains.

What We Know About Ultra Wormholes

What's the root of this new phenomenon?

Recent studies have revealed that Ultra Wormholes are possibly passageways to other dimensions. Experts are divided on what those dimensions may be, however.

It's still unknown how and why they appear, but once Ultra Wormholes form, Ultra Beasts reportedly emerge from them.

An anonymous source shared the above footage. A close look reveals two life-forms. They don't appear hostile, but could they be related to the Ultra Beasts and Ultra Wormholes?

Ultra Wormholes Are Increasing in Number

We've been closely monitoring Ultra Wormhole activity, and our findings project that on 11/27/22, innumerable Ultra Beasts will appear across the world. Our experts suspect that this phenomenon will occur as a result of a ripple effect caused by the Ultra Wormholes set to appear in select cities on November 26th.

Readers, we advise you to prepare yourself for what's to come. This is a global effort. More updates will be released soon.

Fab or Drab?

Pheromosa was caught lighting up the runway not long ago during Fashion Week 2022. Consider its immaculate look, embellished with gold accents. Are they meant to intimidate or attract?

Word On The Street

Anna Rule

“Fact or fiction?”

At first, I thought Ultra Beasts were a myth, but things are getting weird. Think I’ll get to see an actual Ultra Wormhole at the mall? Shopping can wait..

Jeff Geoffries

“What is going on?!”

It was like any other day—until it wasn’t. I’m still in shock from the encounter. There was this life-form I’d never seen before, flexing... There’s something going on—something big! I’m determined to find out more.

Angie Fisher

“Did my eyes deceive me?”

I was minding my own business when all of a sudden, BAM—there it was. I still can’t fully comprehend what I saw. It was such a blur and it all happened so quickly. What in the world is going on?
